Participants have to find appropriate words to describe these hands (in the target language).            E.g. “The hands of my grandfather”.            Each learner then translates orally the expression in her/his mother language.            These translations are written in a word cloud on a poster with the photo.            The poster can be pinned in the classroom.
